MP CALLS FOR COMMUNITY TESTING TO BE STEPPED UP

Report by Henry James

Tower staff on a mission

STAFF at West Tower in Aughton are once again offering a helping hand to the community. During the first lockdown, the wedding venue allowed NHS staff to stay at the hotel free of charge. And during the second lockdown, West Tower has been supporting the charity Mission Christmas Cash for Kids. West Tower has been used as a gift drop off zone, and staff are collecting gifts every day from 9-5pm until Friday, December 18. Mission Christmas Cash for Kids aims to support the one in three children living in poverty. Stephanie Beqo, general manager at West Tower, said: "Mission Christmas Cash for Kids is a great organisation aimed at helping those families who need it most at Christmas time. "I personally get involved every year buying gifts to donate but after this year I am well aware that there will be more families in need than ever before so I wanted to do whatever I could to help and give the organisation a boost.

MP Rosie Cooper has called on Health Secretary Matt Hancock, Lancashire County Council and our own borough council, to prioritise West Lincs for the new Community Testing Programme being rolled out.

Matt Hancock set out details last week of a new Community Testing Programme to help local areas detect asymptomatic cases, suppress the virus and offer a route out of the toughest restrictions. Local Authorities in Tier 3, which currently includes Lancashire, can apply to take part in the new Community Testing Programme for an initial period of six weeks, to complement their wider local strategies to tackle the virus. Rosie Cooper said: "My West Lancashire constituents have endured lengthy spells of restrictions and are eager to do what they can to come out of them quickly, and safely.

"That is why I have written to the Health Secretary, Lancashire County Council and West Lancashire Borough Council urging them to ensure that we are one of the first areas to take up this extra testing to help us learn more about where the Covid is spreading locally, bring down the infection rates, reduce transmissions which will mean it's both safer for residents and that local businesses can get back on their feet. "Although we have seen rapidly reducing rates locally, West Lancashire was still placed under Tier 3 restrictions by Government. This mass testing programme could be West Lancashire's route to Tiers 2 and 1."

Meanwhile, a new asymptomatic testing site (ATS) offering lateral flow tests has opened at Edge Hill University for all students returning home for Christmas as part of the Government's plans to increase UK-wide mass testing.

The University has been working with NHS Test and Trace to set up an on-campus ATS so that students without symptoms, who may be infectious but unaware, are able to get tested and asked to self-isolate if they are, or reassured quickly if they are not.

From November 30 testing has been made available for all Edge Hill students with a term time address who are planning to travel home for Christmas.

Testing has been held at The Venue in the Students' Union building every day between November 30 and December 9.

Chaplain Martin Abrams and chaplain Jan Fraser

Baby remembrance service goes online

By Henry James

THE chaplaincy team and bereavement midwives at Ormskirk hospital hold a memorial service every December in the baby memorial garden for anyone who has experienced the loss of a baby.

This year due to the ongoing restrictions, the team has instead recorded a similar service in the garden, which will be available online from 6.30pm today (Wednesday December 9).

Chaplain Martin Abrams explained: "The spiritual care team, along with local singers, our chief executive Trish Armstrong Child and lead bereavement midwife Jo Unsworth have come together to share poems, songs and thoughts."

"We know that many people take comfort from our annual service, so we hope this virtual replacement will be helpful to families at this challenging time. As ever, the service will be for any baby or child loss at any time.

"This year there will be a big Christmas tree at the front of Ormskirk Hospital outside the outpatients department."

"We will be inviting anybody who wishes to come and write the name of any loved one – baby or adult – on a bauble and tie it firmly onto the tree. The placing of baubles will of course have to be done within the current and ongoing Covid-19 restrictions."

Chaplain Jan Fraser continued: "We have had dozens of little angels knitted and donated by volunteers of the last few weeks."

"Anyone who would like one of these, in memory of their little angel, should contact the chaplaincy and spiritual care service by emailing soh-tr.chaplain@nhs.net and we will post one out to you."

Festive treat for pupils at Crow Orchard school

STAFF at Crow Orchard school have decorated their school hall and classroom doors ready for the festive season.

The children arrived at the primary in School Lane and every class lined up outside and waited their turn to enter the building. Youngsters were then transported, via a snowflake portal, into a magical wintery wonderland.

All of the display boards had been changed to wintery scenes and the doors were covered with brightly coloured elves, reindeers, snowmen, penguins and presents!

After a hard year with Covid and lockdown, the school decided that it needed to make Christmas special this year. Later in the morning, the school had a visit from Santa who followed strict social distancing rules and even used ladders to knock on the windows and surprise the children.

Later in the day, all the children visited the 'outside forest' and were treated to an artificial, but very real, snowstorm.

Every child received a photograph of them wrapped up standing in front of the trees in the snow.

All in all, said a school spokesperson, the children loved it. "Everything was a surprise, as they didn't know what was going to happen."

"Some of the quotes from the children included: 'Wow! It is amazing'; 'It's just like real snow! I feel like I'm in the North Pole'; and 'Yeah, it's Santa and his wife!'"

Mrs Heath deputy head added: "It was magical to bring joy and happiness to the children in what has been a difficult term in school."

"They were really missing singing carols and working hard on the Christmas productions that we have had to miss this year. Hopefully this makes up for it"

Miss Hedges - headteacher said: "The children's faces were a picture!"

"They were so surprised!"

"Santa was fabulous, with his trusty Mrs Claus in tow too and the winter forest brought much joy when the snow arrived!"

"It was such a magical day!"

Demolition of former West Lancs College buildings on Yewdale is welcomed by town's MP

Report by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper has received written confirmation that Lancashire County Council have acquired the site of the former West Lancashire College buildings on Yewdale – and have begun demolition.

After years of lying derelict and following recent arson attacks, Ms Cooper stepped up her pressure on Lancashire County Council to secure the buildings and have them taken down as soon as possible.

She said that Lancashire County Council Chief Executive Angie Ridgwell has confirmed acquisition of the site from West Lancashire College parent group NCG this month and that demolition is under way.

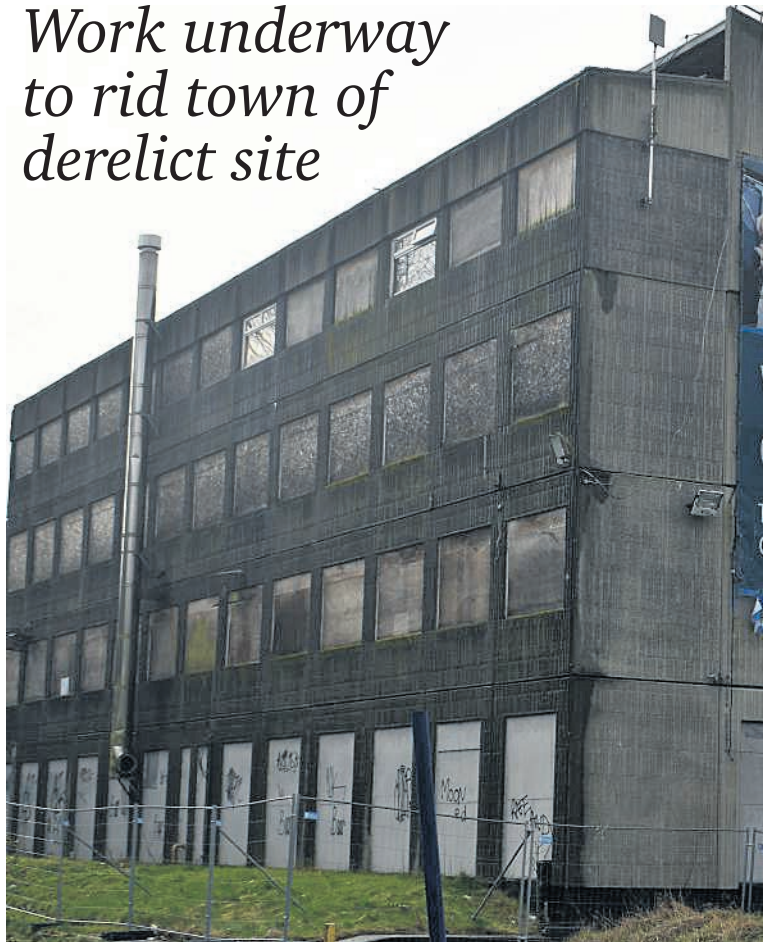

Ms Cooper said: "I have been calling on the former building owners NCG and Lancashire County Council to ensure the demolition of these buildings for some time, once it was apparent they would never be brought back into use."

"These derelict buildings have been an eyesore for local residents, but more concerning was their attraction to trespassers and arsonists, posing a real threat to Skelmersdale residents."

"I have been in regular communications with Lancashire County Council Chief Executive and am pleased to receive the confirmation that the demolition contract was signed and commenced on November 2."

"The wider site has already been earmarked for the future Skelmersdale train station so getting this clearance work done now will ensure this doesn't cause any delay."

Testing takes place for students

Deputy Vice-Chancellor Steve Igoe said: "Following the Government's announcement about the 'student travel window', we have been working with the relevant agencies so that we can provide the service and support needed to ensure students can safely head home to their loved ones."

"We know that students living in term time accommodation and are planning on returning home for Christmas may be feeling confused or anxious right now. By taking these screening tests, students will feel reassured that they are safe to travel, that they are not taking Covid home for Christmas and won't be infecting family or community members, particularly if they are vulnerable."

"We want to thank our students, staff and partners for all their efforts this term, for behaving in a Covid-safe way and committing to our Community Pledge. As a result of us working together, there have been no reports of students living on campus testing positive for Covid-19 in the last seven days."

Students have been encouraged to get tested twice during the first week of December using Lateral Flow Devices. If they receive two negative tests, they are advised to return home immediately. Support and advice will be given to students should they test positive for Covid-19.

Before travelling home, students are advised to: book travel in advance, avoid busy times and routes and check their journey in advance to avoid disruptions. If driving only travel with members of your household or support bubble and follow safer travel advice safety guidelines. On public transport it is important that travellers wear a face covering unless exempt, wash or sanitise hands regularly, use contactless payment and keep 2m distance where possible.

Universities Minister Michelle Donelan said: "We are committed to get students back to their loved ones for the Christmas holidays as safely as possible, after this challenging year."

"Our plans already minimise the risk of students moving at the end of term, through staggered departure dates in the 'student travel window'. But testing will offer further assurances that students can keep their families safe this winter."

by Henry James

“At West Tower we know all too well the impact 2020 has had on everyone and everything this year. So many families are facing unexpected unemployment meaning more children face waking up on Christmas Day without anything under the tree and our mission is to ensure all children in our local area receive a gift this year.

“All gifts will be distributed in Lancashire. I am asking anyone who is able to help these families by donating a gift to our appeal. All gifts must be new and unwrapped. No food or perishable items please.

“During the first lockdown I moved into our site and opened West Tower to NHS staff working in the local hospitals.

“With Lancashire being put into tier three it means we cannot open the building for wedding receptions so I want to ensure I can do as much as possible during this time to help the local community and decided to use the building for the “Mission Christmas Cash for Kids” appeal.

“My daughter, Mia, is six and just about understands what is going on. I wanted to show her the importance of helping others and doing what we could during the pandemic. She has really enjoyed helping me collect presents from the local community and is our very own self-appointed head elf!”

If anyone is able to join us and support local families but are unsure on what to buy, here are some ideas:

For 0-3 Years - teddies, musical toys, my first toys, rattles, books, and plate mats; 3-5 Years - cars, dolls, jigsaw, dress up items, playdoh, colouring books & pencils; 5-7 Years - lego, art and craft sets, skipping ropes, jewellery sets, action figures, and board games; 7-9 Years - football, board games, remote control cars, and stationary sets; 9-12 Years - board games, puzzles, make up sets, nail varnish, and books; and 12-18 Years - books, jewellery, make up, aftershave and perfumes, handbags and backpacks, and electrical items (such as straighteners or mini speakers).

Stephanie added: “We have had a great initial response over the weekend but would love to collect as many gifts as possible over the next couple of weeks in time for Christmas.”

Council officials warn residents and businesses to be ready for life outside the EU

Report by Henry James

OFFICIALS at West Lancashire Borough Council are advising people to be ready for life outside the European Union.

The transition period for the UK's withdrawal ends on December 31 and this will mean different things for residents depending whether they are UK or EU citizens, or if they do business with the EU.

Much depends of the outcome of the current Brexit talks which continued this week but the council wants to make residents and traders aware of the situation as it stands.

Individuals can find out how they need to prepare by visiting <https://www.gov.uk/transition>, but some key things to be aware of are:

- British citizens travelling to a European Union country after December 31 should check their

the proper documents.

- Drivers should put a GB sticker on the back of their vehicle if it's registered in the UK, or they could get fined even if the number plate already shows GB with a Euro symbol.
- EU citizens who are living in the UK by December 31 2020, must apply to the EU Settlement Scheme at <https://www.gov.uk/settled-status-eu-citizens-families/applying-for-settled-status> by June 30, 2021 in order to work in the UK on the same terms as they do now.

Businesses trading with companies in the EU can also get a wide range of advice on the website.

Councillor Ian Moran, leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, said: “The coronavirus has been at the forefront of our minds for most of the year, but let's all make sure we are prepared as best as possible for life after the EU.”

The home of Julie and George Jones which has been lit up for Christmas

Couple light up their home to spread festive joy

A SKELMERSDALE couple who light up their home every Christmas to spread joy and festivity have done the same this year.

Julie and George Jones add more lights every year, but this year they topped their efforts with a 10ft inflatable Father Christmas.

Adel Jones, who is the daughter of the couple from Bearcroft, said: “My parents started off doing the lights for the kids, then their grandkids and now it is for everyone.

“The lights are amazing. They put them up in late November and turn them on every night apart from the bad weather nights to give the neighbourhood some festive cheer.

“I'm so proud of them and hope everybody is as thankful as I am.

“Just walking past the lights gives me the most heart-warming feeling.”

Mawdesley village community rally to make donations to Skem food bank

by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of the community in Mawdesley and surrounding area rallied to make an 'overwhelming' donation to a food bank in Skelmersdale.

The idea was born at Mawdesley Village Hall, which is a registered charity and local schools were quick to get involved. Social media platforms were used to invite people to drop off donations on a Saturday morning.

This was the first of a number of planned weekly collections and the items donated will be delivered to Skelmersdale Food Bank. The hall staged further collections including donations of childrens' toys for Christmas. More details are available on Mawdesley Village Hall's Facebook page or at <https://mawdesleyvillage-hall.co.uk>

Finlay Robertson, chairman of the trustees of the village hall

Volunteers with some of the items donated at Mawdesley Village Hall said: "We were delighted, though not surprised, at the overwhelming generosity of folks.

"Both schools in the village had organised donations from the parents of pupils and locals turned up at the hall throughout the morning with bags and boxes of essentials for those in need during this particularly difficult time for many families."

A spokesperson for Mawdesley Village Hall, added: "Obviously, with the pandemic, what was a very busy venue has been very quiet lately.

"We wanted to do something for people who were finding things particularly difficult at this time and this seemed a great idea and we were delighted with the response from the schools and local people."

City Mayor Joe Anderson in bribery probe

Arrests include Ormskirk man, 25

Report by Henry James

THE Mayor of Liverpool, Joe Anderson, has been released on bail after police arrested him along with four other men, including one from Ormskirk and one from Ainsdale, as part of an ongoing investigation into building and development contracts in the city.

They were arrested in connection with alleged offences of bribery and witness intimidation.

Among the arrests is a 72-year-old man understood to be Derek Hatton, the former deputy leader of Liverpool City Council.

Mr Hatton was a member of the far-left group Militant, which at the start of the 1980s ran the city council.

He was expelled from the Labour Party in the late 1980s for being a member of Militant.

Mr Anderson has now been suspended by the Labour Party while the investigation continues.

Merseyside Police said the five men arrested have been "released on condition bail, pending further inquiries."

Mr Anderson, 62, from Old Swan, was arrested on Friday on suspicion of conspiracy to commit bribery and witness intimidation.

A 25-year-old man from Ormskirk, was arrested on suspicion of witness intimidation and a 33-year-old man from West Derby, was arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to commit bribery and witness intimidation.

A 46-year-old man from Ainsdale, was arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to commit bribery and witness intimidation.

A 72-year-old man from Aigburth, was arrested on suspicion of witness intimidation.

Following his arrest, Mr Anderson issued a statement on Saturday which read: "I was arrested as part of Operation Aloft on Friday, December 4, and interviewed for six hours.

"I co-operated fully with Merseyside Police and will continue to be co-operative in their continuing enquiries.

"I also support the Labour Party's decision to apply an administrative suspension while this investigation continues.

"I have been bailed to return in one month's time. Given the investigation is continuing, and there are bail conditions, I will not be making any further comments."

A Liverpool City Council spokesperson said: "Liverpool City Council is co-operating with Merseyside Police in relation to its ongoing investigation. We do not comment on matters relating to individuals."

The leader of the opposition on Liverpool City Council, Liberal Democrat Councillor Richard Kemp called for Mr Anderson to stand down from all official duties "until cleared or convicted."

Mr Anderson has recently been in the public eye as he has been promoting mass coronavirus testing in Liverpool. His brother Bill died from the virus in October.

He has been the elected mayor of Liverpool since 2012.

Crackdown on drink and drug drivers

LANCASHIRE Police will be cracking down on drink and drug-drivers this month after their annual Christmas road safety campaign launched on Tuesday, December 1.

Police officers know people will want to indulge in some festive cheer – especially after this last year – but they want to make it clear they will not tolerate anybody getting behind the wheel while under the influence of drink or drugs. Over this month, officers will be out and about across the county, operating checkpoints at various locations and stopping motorists and conducting roadside breath and drug tests.

Anybody found to be over the limit will face the full force of the law.

Although Tier 3 restrictions in Lancashire mean pubs will be closed, remember if you drink at home you could still be over the limit the next morning.

Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner said: "Drink and drug driving will never be tolerated here in Lancashire. Those people who drink or drug drive selfishly put their safety and others at risk.

"I am totally supportive of the force's continued efforts to ensure our roads are safer.

"Not only is it a crime, it can have devastating consequences and sadly, year on year these campaigns show how important it is to continue to help make Lancashire's roads as safe as possible."

Drivers risk up to six months' imprisonment, an unlimited fine and a substantial driving ban if they are caught driving while above the legal limit.

Anyone who causes a death while drink or drug driving faces up to 14 years' imprisonment.

Cracking effort! Mosaic artist stars on DIY SOS

A BICKERSTAFFE mosaic artist has starred on the hit BBC One show DIY SOS, hosted by TV presenter Nick Knowles.

David O'Brien made a ceramic mosaic for the Sweet family in Weston Super Mare when the DIY SOS team gave the Sweet family's home a full overhaul and extended it.

David was asked to create a mosaic of the iconic pier at Weston Super Mare's beach and he also undertook a 400-mile round trip to deliver and install the mosaic. He was shown in the episode on Thursday, December 3 on BBC One, which can be seen on the BBC iPlayer now.

The producers of the show asked David to finish the mosaic in front of the TV cameras and he was interviewed whilst completing his piece of art.

David is quickly becoming well known in the art world due to his amazing work bringing one of the oldest forms of art back and putting his unique contemporary twist on each mosaic.

He said: "I love to make mosaics using themes such as Pop Art, Street Art and fashion, but I also use extreme attention to detail in each of my works. I have recently branched out to making more sculptural three-dimensional mosaics as well as taking on bespoke commissions."

"Recently I've been signed to a major art publisher called Wishbone Art who are getting my work seen in art galleries far and wide. I love to make big and small mosaics and this is the name I often use on my social media along with my website www.bigandsmallmosaics.co.uk.

"I chose the name Big and Small Mosaics because when I first thought this could become a commercial artist venture, I wanted to include my daughter Olivia, hence the name! She too is very creative, so involving her meant she could see a new career idea 'hopefully grow' with lots of hard work."

"My passion for mosaics was founded over 25 years ago by one of the most famous mosaic artists of all Antoni Gaudi at his Parc Guell in Barcelona, but it took a while after this for me to get 'cracking' and making my first."

"I absolutely love putting huge amounts of detail in each work and often my mosaics are mistaken for paintings. Also, during lockdown this year, I donated a mosaic football to 'meals for the NHS' where the total money raised by all artists was over £17k.

"I also raised funds for the mental health charity MIND during this period through a small collection of sales."

MP supports Small Business Saturday

WEST LANCASHIRE MP Rosie Cooper supported Small Business Saturday (December 5) by taking part in a virtual visit to Ormskirk town centre's Two Cents Pizza.

Due to the pandemic and local restrictions, the MP arranged a Zoom visit with business partners Nicola Jackson-Jones and Matt Andrews to hear about the challenges they have faced and overcome in keeping their business going through the pandemic and lockdown restrictions.

Nicola set up the pizza shop 18 months ago after 18 years working in a busy office, but was looking for a change and wanted to do something she was more passionate about.

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "Small Business Saturday is a fantastic initiative to help support small, local and independent businesses on our town's high streets.

"2020 has been one of the most challenging years for businesses who are working hard to keep afloat, pay the bills and retain their staff.

"It was a pleasure to meet with Nicola and Matt to hear how they have changed their business to ensure they could continue trading and at the same time continuing to promote and support other businesses and local charities.

"I hope constituents, where they can safely, support local shops and businesses by shopping with them rather than just the larger online retailers."

Founder and owner Nicola Jackson-Jones added: "It's been a bit of a whirlwind first year and a half, starting with setting up the business and growing our customer base, then of course we were forced to close initially in March, before adapting the business to be able to continue trading in line with the ever changing rules.

"While it has been a struggle at times, we have had such huge support from family and friends, but also neighbouring businesses and the customers. Not only have they supported by coming to us, but we've made some great friends who thankfully have become loyal to our pizzas!"

Co-owner Matt Andrews added: "Last year Nic

Rosie Cooper MP's virtual Zoom visit to Two Cents Pizza

supported local people linking with the Birchwood Centre in Skelmersdale in collecting and donating wrapped Christmas presents for children who might have gone without one otherwise.

"This year has been different so we've tried to support where we can, along with our customers, fundraising and donating money and pizzas to hospital staff, local foodbanks and the women's refuge."

To welcome Burscough Street businesses back to work, Two Cents cooked and delivered pizza to the small businesses at lunch time.

Small Business Saturday UK is a grassroots, non-commercial campaign, which highlights small business success and encourages consumers to 'shop local' and support small businesses in their communities.

The day itself takes place on the first Saturday in December each year, but the campaign aims to have a lasting impact on small businesses.

On Small Business Saturday, customers across the UK go out and support all types of small businesses, online, in offices and in stores.

Christmas shoppers offered £1 parking!

Report by Henry James

CHRISTMAS shoppers coming to Ormskirk will be able to park for up to five hours for just £1 this festive period.

Parking charges resumed on Council-run Ormskirk town centre car parks on Wednesday, December 2 following the national lockdown and drivers who purchase a ticket for the pay-and-display car parks will receive an additional two hours parking for free to 'help them save money.'

Councillor David Evans, whose cabinet responsibilities include parking, said: "We want to make sure our local residents feel they can relax while shopping safely in Ormskirk this Christmas. So while they are taking time to shop in the town centre they don't have to rush back to the car."

"We hope everyone will support our local traders in what has been a difficult year for all of us, including them as they have been hit hard by lockdowns and other issues including Edge Hill University not having as many students on campus each day."

Ormskirk has a varied selection of independent stores and well-known high street brands, who have taken steps to ensure visitors can shop safely during the pandemic.

More stalls were also available on Ormskirk Market from Thursday, December 3 and as the market operates in the open air with social distancing in place it offers another place for visitors to shop safely.

The parking offer is available up to and including Thursday, December 24 on borough council car parks except for the one by the council offices on Derby Street.

Motorists should check car park signage to make sure the borough council manage it and display the valid ticket they have paid for. Notices explaining the offer will be on display. The two extra free hours will not be shown on the ticket. The council parking officers are aware of the offer and will allow for the extra two hours.

Borough council chiefs hope that it will encourage shoppers to come to Ormskirk

Parking on the council's pay and display car parks is free on Sundays and Bank Holidays. At the start of the first lockdown the council were one of the first local authorities in Lancashire to suspend parking charges and the council were one of the last in Lancashire and Merseyside to re-introduce them later in the year. The council suspended charges again at the start of the second lockdown when a number of other local authorities did not.

Re-introducing them will help stop people parking all day or even overnight and free those spaces up for visitors.

A borough council spokesperson said: "We are all now subject to travelling restrictions similar to those faced in October, when we were told to try to avoid travelling outside the area and people were told to try to avoid coming here so visitor numbers were down. As we prepare for Christmas this is a chance to see what great shops and traders are on our doorstep."

Virtual event raises £54k for Rainbow Hub

Interview by Henry James

RAINBOW Hub's first Virtual Family Evening on Saturday, November 28 raised more than £54,000 for the Mawdesley-based charity which supports children and young people with neurological and physical disabilities.

The event, hosted by Britain's Got Talent runner up and local star Steve Royle, was sponsored by CL Medilaw, Preston North End Football Club and Holroyd Foundation.

The evening featured two performances by current lead singer of Wet, Wet, Wet and The Voice 2016 winner, Kevin Simm, together with appearances by BGT winner Jon Courtney and his fellow contestants Soldiers of Swing, Aidan McCann, and Sign Along With Us among others, plus local acts including children's entertainer Taz, Zanda Magic and the choir, Make Noise also gave their support.

Preston North End players took part in a Team naming challenge and a Hit the Crossbar challenge where David Nugent scored two, beating team mates Paul Gallagher and Jaydon Stockley.

More than 130 families tuned in to enjoy the show and take part in silent auctions where they tried to outbid other virtual guests for fantastic prizes including a games console donated by Par Group; an executive box for next season at Preston North End; Rolls Royce Silver Ghost chauffeur driven trip and lunch; Christmas package including a 7ft Nordmann Fir Tree donated by Treebarn, Blackrod; £300 loft installation voucher from Access 4 Lofts; Horrible Christmas Drive In show ticket; Photoshoot from Precious Little Bear photography; a non surgical facelift by Permanent Perfection; Christmas hampers; sports memorabilia; an adventure park stay

Kevin Kneale from Formby was the lucky winner of the prize draw for a £200 voucher for a Lake District Lodge Holidays donated by Eccleston Plastering Services Ltd.

Lyndsay Fahey, Interim CEO, Rainbow Hub said: "We are absolutely delighted that the evening has been such a huge success.

"There are so many people who have helped make this happen that we can't name them all but we cannot thank them enough especially Steve Royle for stepping in to host the event; our sponsors CL Medilaw, Preston North End and Holroyd Foundation; Kevin Simm and all the artistes who made appearances and our fantastic fundraising team at Rainbow Hub.

"To everyone who joined us for the evening, bid in the auctions and are helping us to continue to offer our much-needed services – thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

"It has been a difficult year for us all and we have had to cancel many of our events, but we are looking forward to the future."

Youngsters mark Mental Health Week with activity days

PUPILS at Ormskirk CE Primary School have enjoyed a range of activities during Mental Health Week. They followed the BBC's Five To Thrive campaign led by Joe Wicks, Dr Radha and Blue Peter.

Five to Thrive is a unique programme of well-being activities designed to help children feel better about themselves – as well as helping others. Each day, the children had a specific focus to help build a healthy mental well-being.

As a finale to the week, children in Years 2 to Year 6 took part in a triathlon which included swimming, go carting and running around the school grounds.

Lecturer awarded special Merchant Navy recognition

*Alan was 'surprised and very honoured'
to be given accolade*

Report by Danielle Thompson

A FORMER nautical lecturer has been awarded a special accolade for 'meritorious service' to the Merchant Navy.

Father of two Alan Wall, 62, from Ormskirk, who attended Greetby Hill School and Ormskirk Grammar School, was given the Merchant Navy Medal last week.

The Merchant Navy Medal for Meritorious Service is awarded to those who are serving or have served in the Merchant Navy and fishing fleets of the UK, Isle of Man or Channel Islands for exemplary service and devotion to duty, rewarding those who have set an outstanding example to others.

Alan Wall

Mr Wall joined the Mobil Shipping Company at 18 years old from school and served 14 years with them on oil tankers worldwide, achieving his Master Mariner Certificate. He then completed his MSc and PhD in Operational Research at Lancaster University, before joining Liverpool John Moores University as a Nautical Lecturer and recently retired from LJMU as Maritime Subject Leader.

As well as lecturing to professional students and others, he completed maritime research and led the development of ship simulation facilities at LJMU. During 2016-2020, he was also the Director of International Association of Maritime institutions serving as Vice-Chair and then Chair.

Alan told the Champion: "I was very surprised and I am very honoured to get the Merchant Navy Medal."

"I am sure there are many people who are more deserving."

"The ceremony in London is normally held at end of November, but has been moved to next summer because of Covid-19."

Football league remains suspended

THE North West Counties Football League has confirmed that they are suspending the restart of its season.

Skelmersdale United, Burscough and Bootle play in the Premier Division of the league, which was originally given the green light by the government to restart from Wednesday, December 2 having been suspended due to England entering lockdown at the start of November.

And although the league had earlier indicated that they would restart, it has now opted to remain suspended until Saturday, December 19, at the earliest.

That is because a sizeable number of teams in areas across the North West are facing the most severe Tier Three restrictions from next week and would not be allowed to have fans attend their matches.

"Following a meeting of the Management Committee of The North West Counties Football League this evening, the decision has been made to suspend the restart of the League season until 19th December," a league statement issued on Friday night read.

"The decision follows the move to introduce tougher restrictions in England meaning that 40 clubs currently sit in tier three areas, which means they cannot admit spectators.

"The League indicated at the beginning of the pandemic that football behind closed doors at steps five and six is not sustainable for the majority of clubs and therefore we had little choice but to continue with the suspension of fixtures.

"The League will review the decision again on December 16 once the UK Government has reviewed the tier levels.

Skelmersdale United chairman Paul Griffiths

"However, should the situation remain the same in relation to spectators being excluded from matches, then the restart will likely be postponed until Saturday, January 2.

"In addition, the League Management Committee also agreed that in the event fixtures resume on the 19th, then clubs can agree to switch their Boxing Day fixtures to December 28, 29 or 30 to allow volunteers, management and players to take advantage of the relaxation of rules allowing families to come together for Christmas.

"The League will continue to work with clubs to manage the challenges faced due to the pandemic, and will work with the FA in pushing DCMS (Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport) and the Government to allow spectators back into stadia at steps five and six.

"If this is not possible, then only the provision of grant funding for clubs would allow football to resume behind closed doors."

Care & Support this festive season

The number one priority for care homes and care providers across the UK remains the safety and wellbeing of their residents, clients and hard-working, dedicated staff.

Visiting your loved one

Teams in Care homes across the region are working hard to find ways to help residents to see their loved ones. From visiting pods to window visits, these vary from home to home depending on the levels of risk in each home and the local community.

Maintaining family and social connections is fundamental to the health and wellbeing of care home residents and staff are absolutely committed to ensuring residents are able to enjoy visits from their family and friends wherever possible while complying with current restrictions.

Where visiting is not possible, homes are doing their best to keep residents in touch with families using a wide range of tools. This can include regular updates on Facebook pages, as well as maintaining contact via Zoom, Skype and phone calls.

There has been investment in longer term visiting solutions such as air sealed visiting suites. These suites will involve access for visitors via an external door, with resident taking part in the visit from behind a sealed glass panel, using a sound system to assist with communication.

Rapid tests for care home visitors

On 2nd December the government announced new guidance on care home visiting in England. This states that visiting should be enabled wherever it is possible to do so safely, regardless of which tier a care home is located in. To make this possible, the government plans to supply rapid turnaround coronavirus tests for care home visitors across England. It says it will provide enough tests to ensure every care home resident can receive visits from two people twice a week by Christmas. The rapid tests, known as lateral flow tests, usually generate results in under half an hour. Visitors will need to contact the care home in advance to book in for a test. If they receive a negative test result, visitors will still be required to wear PPE and follow social distancing guidelines.

Home Care during Coronavirus
Coronavirus home care is practical and emotional support for anyone that needs extra assistance at home during the Covid-19 outbreak and beyond.

The current situation is unsettling for us all – but especially for those people who have been identified as being within the ‘vulnerable’ group by the government. Home care not only helps with the physical elements of care but can also provide much-needed emotional support too.

Home care can start from as little as 30-minutes per week and can progress all the way up to 24-hour care for those with more complex care needs. This type of care is flexible and can be designed to adapt around an individual’s needs, even if their condition changes.

Visiting Care
If you need someone to collect your weekly shopping and you’re unable to leave home because you’re self-isolating or you need assistance with personal care in the morning and evening, visiting care may be the ideal option for you. Designed to fit in with your existing routines and preferences, these visits offer help with the housework, deliver medicines or help with continence care.

Live-in care
If you require more frequent support due to a long-term health condition, live-in care provides the reassurance that you may need during the coronavirus pandemic. Living with you in your home, a carer will be there throughout the day and night to be on hand whenever you require support. This may be particularly beneficial if you are concerned about having different carers in your home during the outbreak, as live-in care is limited to the same carer.

Emergency care
There are many people that may find themselves being discharged from hospital because beds are needed for coronavirus patients, or even those that may have had coronavirus and are now well enough to go home but need extra support.

You may need the assistance of a live-in carer if you have a pre-existing medical condition that requires constant support, or you may just need extra help with the housekeeping and meal preparations while you get yourself back on your feet.

The Hollies Residential Care Home

Providing accommodation and personal care for up to 23 people, The Hollies Residential Care Home is located close to Southport town centre. Accommodation is provided over three floors and can be accessed by stairs or a passenger lift. There is parking at the front of the building and a secluded garden at the back. Disabled access is provided at the rear entrance via the patio doors.

“thank-you for looking after our mum. You showed her such respect and dignity. You all treated mum with such kindness. It made things so much easier for us knowing she was in good hands. We are so lucky to have found your wonderful day care centre. You are all angels in our eyes. Thank you once again.”
The daughter of a client at the Willow Centre.

“To all the staff at the Willow Centre, I would like to thank all the staff for taking care of my husband. For all the time he was at the Willows. Thank you girls for the care you showed to him. I am so grateful to you all.”

The all-electric Taycan is currently Porsche's best-selling model

PORSCHE'S Taycan is a pretty tantalising argument for all-electric performance motoring – even if I can't help taking pity on the plight of some of its owners.

You've probably seen the video clip that went viral the other week of a Taycan shooting off the wall of a steeply sloped driveway, promptly taking out two nearby parked cars in the process. Then there was the couple who set off on a 130-mile journey in their Taycan, only to discover that a series of out-of-order charging stations meant that it took nine

However, no amount of Facebook mockery can get in the way of the cold, hard numbers coming out of Stuttgart – the Taycan, for the moment at least, is the best-selling car Porsche makes.

Not the 911. Not the Cayenne. An all-electric saloon for which the range kicks off at £83,000 is currently the sports car specialist's Fifty Shades of Grey, Pokemon Go and bumper-sized bog roll pack rolled into one.

Short of bringing out a stripped out GT3 version that'd demolish everything in sight at a track day and keep Greta vaguely happy – go on chaps, you know you want to – I don't think Porsche can do much else with the Taycan.

As the couple with the nine-hour commute in particular have proven, it's the UK charging network, not the car, that could do with a facelift.

No one, realistically, is going to do more than 250 miles in a single hit, so as long as you factor in a stop for a Boris-approved Scotch egg while you top up and the charging point actually works, you'll be fine.

So instead I reckon Porsche should be concentrating on their sixth-best selling model; the 718 Boxster, and its tin-top Cayman sibling.

This is the bread and butter of Porsche's range and should be attracting track day-loving regional managers in their droves, yet it's comprehensively outsold by the 911, which costs twice as much.

It's also only available with a turbo-charged flat four engine, which runs on good old-fashioned unleaded – it's quick, for sure, but it's also a bit old hat in a Britain that's vowed to outlaw any new cars with internal combustion from 2030 onwards.

Happily, Porsche's best brains are already on it. There's nothing on the record yet, but word has it that in just over a year's time the 718's replacement will use the Taycan's tech to create a mid-engined sports car that'll outhandle just about everything BMW, Audi and Jaguar can throw at it while meeting all of the zero emissions requirements too.

Of course I'll be sad to see the old Boxster engine being phased out but the new Boxster promises to be everything that Taycan is right now, but for roughly half the price.

Just make sure you remember to charge it up first...
